NEW GOODS.

J. B. & G. H. FORNEY RESPECTFULLY announce the reception of their splendid stock of SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

THE long standing character and appreciated patronage of the house renders an enumeration of the various articles of Merchandise useless.

Reducing their sales, they promise a continuation of strictly courteous and honorable intercourse with their friends. The public generally are invited to examine their stock.

Special personal attention given to all orders.

April 23, 1859—6.

"New Goods!"

WOODWARD & WHITE, RESPECTFULLY announce the arrival of their Stock of SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

THE goods selected with care as to prices and quality, and besides the usual variety, embraces many novelties worthy of attention.

As their stock is quite large, they would suggest to purchasers, that it might be to their interest, to examine their Goods before buying.

SUGAR, COFFEE, MOLASSES and FACTORY THREAD may be bought from their store for CASH.

They are gratified that their exertions are acceptable, and that their manner of doing business is approved of by their customers. They will still endeavor to merit the confidence and patronage of their friends.

shallow pools under the fast bush they find."

"You forget that Tom Hutter, Paul Hazelhurst, the tall Yankee, and the nigger, started after 'em the minute we took to our heels. They've found 'em, I'll warrant, and that arch rebel, Hazelhurst, is whispering fine things in Jessie's ears by this time. The days'll be long and the nights restless till I've covered him with the muzzle of my rifle. Little shall I sleep till he ceases to stand 'tween me and Jessie Barnside."

"It isn't best to let out any secrets, Captain, for we don't know what ears may hear us."

A ring broke beneath the slight weight of Jessie's person. The circumstances added fresh terror to her situation.

"What was that?" whispered Arrow-smith.

"It was a noise!" said Vantassel suddenly, whose bad temper made him reckless.

Jessie heard Vantassel parting the laurels and pressing slowly toward her. Her heart beat violently; she believed if he paused he could hear it. The crisis of her fate, it seemed to her, had arrived. Should she spring up and attempt to fly, or remain silent a moment longer? She chose the latter. Vantassel was within three yards of her.

[To be continued in the New York Weekly of April 30th, and for sale by every News Agent throughout the United States.]

The New-YORK WEEKLY is published by A. J. Williamson, No. 22 Beckman street, New-York and sold by all respectable News Agents in the United States. The price is Four Cents, but in some cases, where Agents have to pay extra freight or postage a higher price is necessarily charged. When there is a News Agent in the town, we desire our friends to get the WEEKLY through him. We do not wish to mail the paper except to places where there is no other means of getting it. When sent by mail, the price will invariably be 32 a year, in advance. Subscriptions taken for three months. Two copies will be sent for a year for $2; four copies for $6; eight copies for $12. Postmasters and others who get up clubs of ten, and send us $15 at one time, will be entitled to an extra copy for their trouble. The bills of all solvent banks taken at par for subscriptions. Canada subscribers must send twenty six cents extra with every subscription, to prepay the American postage.

PURSUIT OF KNOWLEDGE.

Dr. Marshall, the Scampare missionary, born in a humble sphere of life, raised himself to a position of distinguished eminence by his unusual exertions and his indomitable energy. He plied the shuttle with the Green, grain, east before him, and before he was twenty had filled his mind with vast stores of knowledge, and thus laid the foundation of future usefulness.

SECRET. There is a Hebrew proverb, "Thy secret is thy prison; if thou let it go, thou art a prisoner to it;" and another, "Thy friend hath a friend, and therefore what thou wouldest have kept as a secret, reveal not to thy friend."

THE RECOMPENSE OF REWARD.

Be often remembering what a blessed thing it is to be saved, to go to heaven, to be made like angels, and to dwell with God and Christ to all eternity. Bunyan.

TEMPTATION. The devil entangles youth with beauty, the miser with gold, the ambitious with power, the learned with false doctrine.

WISDOM. Wisdom is the olive that springs from the heart, bloometh on the tongue, and beareth fruit in the actions. Gymnestone.

FRIENDSHIP. Friendship is the only thing in the world, concerning the usefulness of which all mankind are agreed. Cicero.

EATING. In general, mankind, since the improvement of cookery, eat about twice as much as nature requires. Franklin.

CONVERSATION. "Time passes away," says the Hindoo proverb, "but saying remains."

GUILT. One crime must be concealed by the commission of another. Seneca.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—John B. Gilmer, Esq., son of the late Secretary and Ex-Governor of Virginia, who was killed on board the steamer Princeton, several years ago committed suicide early this morning at the railroad depot, by throwing himself under the moving locomotive. He resided at Charlottesville, and was editor of the Reformer. He was about 30 years old. Mr. Roger A. Pryor took charge of the body, will be sent home in the evening train.

GOLD.—The recent discoveries of Gold which have been made in this region of the country promises to be of great importance. New discoveries are being daily made, and parties are rapidly organizing for the purpose of mining. The gold is found in quartz and also in the gulches and streams.

We understand that a placer, has been discovered on the Rob Roy place, belonging to the Messrs. Curry, which yielded from seven to nine pounds of gold, many pennweights of fine gold. Much excitement prevails. Tulane and Watchtower.

HOMECOMING.—As we go to press, we're gret to learn that Zachariah Brantley of this county, lost his life at Isabella, Ga., on Tuesday evening last in a re-union with John Giles, John Howell, and James A. Hoy. Giles and Hoy are in the custody of the sheriff. Howell made his escape, ran off bleeding, and is supposed to have died in the woods.

The wounds received by Brantley were made with a Bowie knife. One in the back, another in the pit of the stomach, and the other above the right knee. Not being informed of the circumstances which led to this melancholy affair, we withhold any comment. Albany (Ga.) Patriot, April 21.

You may insert a thousand excellent things in a newspaper, and never hear a word of approbation from the readers, but just let a paragraph slip in (by accident) of one or two lines not suited to their taste, and you will be sure to hear of it. Washington Star.

Jacksonville Republican.

JACKSONVILLE, ILL.

May 12, 1859.

MR. F. H. GOODWIN, is our authorized Agent, to receive and receipt for subscriptions to the Republican, contract and receipt for advertising, &c.

Friends and neighbors will confer a favor upon us, which will be gratefully appreciated, by affording him every facility in their power, in the transaction of business.

It isn't best to let out any secrets, Captain, for we don't know what ears may hear us."

A ring broke beneath the slight weight of Jessie's person. The circumstances added fresh terror to her situation.

"What was that?" whispered Arrow-smith.

"It was a noise!" said Vantassel suddenly, whose bad temper made him reckless.

Jessie heard Vantassel parting the laurels and pressing slowly toward her. Her heart beat violently; she believed if he paused he could hear it. The crisis of her fate, it seemed to her, had arrived. Should she spring up and attempt to fly, or remain silent a moment longer? She chose the latter. Vantassel was within three yards of her.

[To be continued in the New York Weekly of April 30th, and for sale by every News Agent throughout the United States.]

The New-YORK WEEKLY is published by A. J. Williamson, No. 22 Beckman street, New-York and sold by all respectable News Agents in the United States. The price is Four Cents, but in some cases, where Agents have to pay extra freight or postage a higher price is necessarily charged. When there is a News Agent in the town, we desire our friends to get the WEEKLY through him. We do not wish to mail the paper except to places where there is no other means of getting it. When sent by mail, the price will invariably be 32 a year, in advance. Subscriptions taken for three months. Two copies will be sent for a year for $2; four copies for $6; eight copies for $12. Postmasters and others who get up clubs of ten, and send us $15 at one time, will be entitled to an extra copy for their trouble. The bills of all solvent banks taken at par for subscriptions. Canada subscribers must send twenty six cents extra with every subscription, to prepay the American postage.

PURSUIT OF KNOWLEDGE.

Dr. Marshall, the Scampare missionary, born in a humble sphere of life, raised himself to a position of distinguished eminence by his unusual exertions and his indomitable energy. He plied the shuttle with the Green, grain, east before him, and before he was twenty had filled his mind with vast stores of knowledge, and thus laid the foundation of future usefulness.

SECRET. There is a Hebrew proverb, "Thy secret is thy prison; if thou let it go, thou art a prisoner to it;" and another, "Thy friend hath a friend, and therefore what thou wouldest have kept as a secret, reveal not to thy friend."

THE RECOMPENSE OF REWARD.

Be often remembering what a blessed thing it is to be saved, to go to heaven, to be made like angels, and to dwell with God and Christ to all eternity. Bunyan.

TEMPTATION. The devil entangles youth with beauty, the miser with gold, the ambitious with power, the learned with false doctrine.

WISDOM. Wisdom is the olive that springs from the heart, bloometh on the tongue, and beareth fruit in the actions. Gymnestone.

FRIENDSHIP. Friendship is the only thing in the world, concerning the usefulness of which all mankind are agreed. Cicero.

EATING. In general, mankind, since the improvement of cookery, eat about twice as much as nature requires. Franklin.

CONVERSATION. "Time passes away," says the Hindoo proverb, "but saying remains."

GUILT. One crime must be concealed by the commission of another. Seneca.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—John B. Gilmer, Esq., son of the late Secretary and Ex-Governor of Virginia, who was killed on board the steamer Princeton, several years ago committed suicide early this morning at the railroad depot, by throwing himself under the moving locomotive. He resided at Charlottesville, and was editor of the Reformer. He was about 30 years old. Mr. Roger A. Pryor took charge of the body, will be sent home in the evening train.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA.

Cahoon County.

Circuit Court, Spring Term, 1859.

To the Hon. S. D. Hale, Judge of said Court.

The Grand Jurors, sworn at the present term of the Court, beg leave to report, that they have fully discharged the duties devolving upon them as such Grand Jurors.

1st. By making a personal inspection of the said defendant in the said court, which they find is insufficient for the keeping of prisoners; yet they are pleased to report, that the court of County Commissioners of said county have taken steps to build a new and safe jail; that the contract for building the same, has been taken by an efficient contractor, and that the jail will be completed within one year from the time of the trial.

2nd. By examining the books of the County Treasurer, they are pleased to learn that the books are neatly and correctly kept; that the Treasurer has charged himself with all sums which he is chargeable with, and has paid out of his hands for all sums which he has lawfully expended.

3rd. By a settlement of the Treasurer with the Court of County Commissioners on the 10th day of February, 1859, there was remaining in his hands the sum of $870 19

That he has since received the sum of 1601 75

Making in all the sum of $2471 94

Which he has lawfully paid out since the 1st day of Feb'y, 1859 the sum of $928 28

And retained commis. 46 41-574 03

Leaving his hands as Treasurer, April 25 '59, $1497 25

3rd. They have examined the bonds of all county officers and find them correct and sufficient.

4th. They are pleased also to state that the books of the Judge of Probate and Clerk of the Circuit Court are neatly and correctly kept and that no county officer ever charged fees, as far as they can learn from inspection, or otherwise.

5th. They have diligently inquired into all indictable offences, committed or triable in said county, and true presentments have been made to the grand jury, and the grand jury have returned their verdicts, they being fully satisfied of the correctness of their findings.

6th. Having fully reported as to their duties, they beg leave to return their thanks to the honorable the presiding Judge for his satisfactory and judicious charge, and also to the officers of the county, and of the court, for their prompt attention in assisting them in the performance of their duties.

All of the above is respectfully submitted.

Mr. Hillard

Addressed his fellow-citizens of Marion on Tuesday last, at Tuskegee, in a speech abounding with argument, and eloquence, and silenced much of the opposition which has existed in his party, to his candidacy for Congress in this District.

Mr. Hillard was prevented from hearing this speech, but understood that it was so thoroughly braced all around, that few could object to it.

Judge Rice was posted to reply to it, on Wednesday. His objection, needless to say, is that Mr. Hillard is not a disinterested man.

The people will agree with Mr. Hillard, that the time is not yet for disunion.—Auburn Signal.

The above, Mr. Editor, is the production of Wm. F. Sanford, the gentleman who has been pretending to be a Southern Rights man for years. He is at times lauding Hon. Wm. J. Vance, and at others, extolling others as opposed to him as the Poles are to each other. I have no earthly objection to Mr. Hillard as a man, but as a politician, he will not do. He is too gentle and yielding for the great interests of the South at this eventful crisis. There are too many men at the North with whom Mr. Hillard might pair off, as he used to do with Mr. Winthrop, if I am not mistaken.

At present, Mr. Hillard is a good adviser for the South. If he were able to be up and could look around him and see where things are drifting, he would not write such foolish things—we trust that Sam Rice will do the like. Parsons speaks as if the Vance alone could be equal to him.

Yours,

SOUTHERN RIGHTS.

The River and Crevasses.

The Mississippi, in front of this city, and for some distance above, is three inches higher than it was ever before known to be. With unusually rainy weather, and the continued heavy rises of water in the great rivers that pour into the Mississippi, this is not to be wondered at. The Telegraph has announced that at Memphis the river is not rising, and that at Vicksburg it is falling, so we can thence derive hope of a reasonable term, very good.

ETOWAH HOUSE, Rome, Ga.—We have been advertising this house some weeks, but in the hurry of business, neglected to call the attention of the traveling public to its excellent accommodations.

Mr. L. P. Thomas, who has had considerable experience in the business is the present proprietor, and persons who have recently visited his house in Rome, speak of it in the highest terms. We think we may safely say he is the most popular proprietor of the Etowah House ever had.

BAD ACCOUNT FROM THE WHEAT.—We have the following extract from a private letter dated, Fents, Bridg, Jefferson County, Ga., April 17.

"I think we will have no wheat this year, as the blight was last year, though we had much rain. I have heard of two other cases having the rust, and I think it is a general disease.

Similar, if not worse, accounts have been received in this city from Scriven County. Some of the planters there are seriously thinking of turning their entire crops and planting something else.

From Mr. McRae, in the parish of Piquetown, on the opposite bank, we learn that a croesus took place yesterday in the levee near his place, just above the lower end of the Cut-off Road. The break was about fourteen feet wide, and four & half a foot deep. The alarm was immediately given, and the hands from the plantations of Messrs. Packwood, Villerie, Zane and others were hurried to the spot and set vigorously to work.

NEARLY six lives were lost and only thirty-nine saved—a disproportion of the lost to the saved almost without precedent. The cargo and the boat are a total loss. The St. Nicholas was

“New Goods!” WOODWARD & WHITE,

RESPECTFULLY announce the arrival of their Stock of

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

It has been selected with care as to prices and quality, and besides the usual variety, embraces many novelties worthy of attention.

As their stock is quite large, they would suggest to purchasers, that it might be to their interest, to examine their Goods before buying.

Sugar, Coffee, Molasses and Factory Thread may be bought from them for cash.

They are gratified that their exertions are acceptable, and that their manner of doing business is approved of by their customers. They will still endeavor to merit the confidence and patronage of their friends.

Genuine Goods, should see that the Goods are sealed with the full name of the firm.

RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN,

as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective goods are offered to the public, and sealed and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON

by Irishmen, who, regardless of the injury

thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturer, are profiting greatly by the sale of Goods.

They make no promises that are not performed strictly to the letter, and by thus punctually canceling their obligations have given the entire confidence of their customers to their firm.

Steam Engine Works.

MESSRS. NOLDE & BROS., Rome, Ga., have their Foundry and Engine Works in good order and complete operation, the foundry putting on engines of all sizes. We saw one of their large-gauge work the other day, and in our opinion it cannot be excelled, either in point of workmanship or ease of motion, by any engine made at the North. These gentlemen are very enterprising and deserve patronage. The advantages accruing from having a manufacture of this kind in our midst, besides the great saving of freight on such heavy articles, are many and obvious; and we trust that those who want work in their line will patronise them liberally.

The War Commened.—We give in today's paper copious extracts from the telegraphic intelligence of the progress of the war in Europe, and as anticipated in our last, it will be seen, that hostilities have actually commenced. All conjectures as to the probable effects of this war upon the various interests of this country, must of necessity be very uncertain; this will probably depend greatly upon the length of its continuance.

The principal cause of this war, about which there is little known and a good deal of enquiry, may be briefly stated as follows: Austria has heretofore made treaties with several of the Italian States, which give her the right to occupy their territory & intervene to put down any popular uprising of the people in favor of liberty. Under these treaties Austria has established a most odious & oppressive military despotism, under which the Italian States have become restive, and appealed to other nations of Europe for aid. France demands an abrogation of these treaties, and some concession by Austria to the liberal spirit—not as supposed, because she loves liberty any more than Austria, but wishes to curtail her power & humble her as a rival, and fears a general uprising of the masses in Italy which may spread to other nations, and endanger all the despots of Europe.—So far as Italy is concerned, it may be only a choice of despotic masters, but it cannot make things worse for her, and may make them much better.

S. Norton & Son.—The advertisement of these enterprising merchants of Rome, Ga., has been received, but owing to the press are upon our column, and the amount of matter previously received and in type, we are compelled to defer it a few days. It shall receive due attention next week.

We learn that TISDALE S. LOGAN, was elected Judge of Probate of St. Clair County, on the first Monday of this month.

While in Rome; a few days ago, we stepped into the Store of SLOAN, ALLIX, & CO., where we found the finest assortment of Goods we have seen in many a day. Their Store House is fitted up in the most tasteful manner imaginable, and filled from top to bottom with the latest styles and most fashionable Staple & Fancy Goods.

Our old friend, T. Hooper, one of the firm, "showed us round," and at every turn we were greeted by huge piles of merchandise of every description, from the finest Dress Goods, down to a bunch of Factory Thread.

We would advise all our friends who go to Rome to buy their Goods, to call on Messrs. Sloan, Allix, & Co. before purchasing elsewhere, as we are confident that this firm will make it to the interest of all who want Goods, to buy of them. Orders sent to these gentlemen, will meet with prompt attention. Again we say, call on them & we guarantee you good bargains.

We have received the proceedings of a Public Meeting, held by the citizens of Cedar Bluff, Cherokee Co., on the 9th inst. on the subject of the reduction of mail service on the line from Chattanooga to Jacksonville.

We will give these proceedings a place in our next. In the mean time, we are much gratified to learn, that the Department has wisely reconsidered the matter, and restored daily service on this important line.

We renew our call of attention to the advertisement of Mr. A. R. Harpster. He has the largest stock of Agricultural Implements in the country, and as the wheat crop is just coming in, this is the time to buy your Reapers and Threshers. He proposes to sell on better terms than any house in the city.

We are compelled to postpone several articles from our poetical friends, until next week. We tender our thanks for their favors, and assurances of regard at the delay.

Fort & Margrove, Rome, Ga.—These gentlemen have a very large and varied assortment of Groceries, at their Store on Broad Street.

Our friends in this and other border counties of Alabama, who have business in Rome will find it to their interest to give them a visit. They will find them very correct and accomodating gentlemen, ever ready to furnish them with the very best of articles upon the most reasonable terms. We hope they will be liberally patronized from this section of country.

See advertisement in another column.

treats that your correspondent has seen for many years. It only lacks the whistle of the locomotive to make it a place.

The mountains are beautiful. They are undulating, precipitous, gently rising one above another, until they are lost in the distance, presenting a contrast of a living green sheet of tree tops, not unlike "the dark deep blue ocean in a storm." To the pleasure seeker, I would say come to Jacksonville and see these beautiful sights. If you love fine water, we have a spring of the living carbonate gushing from the rugged rock, affording water enough to slake the thirst of the army of Waterloo.—None of your silently moving waters either, but, gushing with a rapid whirl, gushing the flowers meadows below, where it forms a large creek.

Then roll on ye whirling cars! I care not how soon ye may come from below. I want to see all the stately sons of South Alabama! Up here in these mountain plains. In the language of the Highlanders of Scotland, to England's sovereign, we will say, welcome to your Highland Glees.

More hereafter, ZENO.

The Rebellion in British India.—A Remarkable Leader.

The Boulay correspondent of the Y. Herald, of the date of January 10, says that at the present time there are at least two hundred thousand of the Sepoy rebels in the field against the British Government. The mutiny is yet very far from being subdued. Re-creating to their almost inaccessible fortresses and jungles, the Sepoy rebels are constantly sallying out and committing forays upon the cities and towns in the prairies. The great rebel leader, Nana Sahib, and his lieutenants, are yet at large to encourage the spirit of disaffection and mutiny, and until they are taken and hanged, there can be no peace or security to British India. One of Nana's lieutenants the Herald's correspondent thus speaks:

"Decidedly the most singular character that has been brought forth by the Indian mutiny is Tantia Tope. About the time of the fall of Jhansi Tantia seems to have made his appearance—at least at this time he first began to be formidable. Suddenly appearing at the head of some twenty-five thousand troops, he has not for a year kept the English forces in any serious motion. But, brigade after brigade, battalions after battalions, and regiments after regiments, have been sent against him, till the column is now out-numbered him by tens of thousands, and his army has dwindled from the number above-mentioned to a mere handful. He has been met and defeated, but again and again; hardly a week passes but that some new account is furnished us of his flight and escape, and the next day comes news of some unsupported village, plundered, it is reconnoitred his troops, and away he flies like a meteor, to be again met and defeated, and again slip through the fingers of the pursuers.—At least a dozen times we have been told lately that at last Tantia was surrounded, no hope left, &c. The next day would find him out-leading all his pursuers, some sixty or seventy miles. I do not exaggerate; sixty or seventy miles is no uncommon march for this Mahatatta Will-o'-the-Wisp. He reminds me more of our own Indian hero, King Phillip, than any other personage which I have seen upon the stage since the days of scalps and tomahawks. Some of our novelties, hard up for a subject, would find a grand one in him; for, let me tell you, no one knows him, no one can give the least clue as to his connections—he is wholly shrouded in mystery, and by some believed to be a mythical representative of the Nana himself. How he has managed to escape the numerous traps laid for him I cannot conceive; he has lost all but about one thousand men, and yet keeps at least forty thousand English troops at the top of their speed, from day to day, week to week, month to month, and I might almost add year to year.

Are you in favor of an alteration in the State Constitution, so as to make the counties smaller?

Are you in favor of the 3 per cent. fund being applied to the completion of the Ala. & Tenn. R. R. Road?

For the Republican.

Mr. EDITOR.—When I communicate an article for the Press I am at a loss how to begin, or what to write, but before I get through I am as equally put to how to close.

To commence then about the weather. Spring has come at last, in the lap of Summer, thanks to the clerk of the weather, and the beautiful flowers and early fruits, which were delayed, now stand upon and tempt us at every step. We can scarcely keep from trespassing upon some of our friends' fine strawberry beds, but the slight distinction of meau and meau and delicate farfili.

Those pelting storms which have flooded us for months past have ceased, and the bright lamp of day again asserts his sway. He has dissolved those perpetual fog which have lowered about our mountain tops, for many days gone by. He has dried up the roads for the accommodation of travelers and thanks to his benign influence, we pedestrians can now resume our walks undisturbed.

All hail glorious month of May, with all thy fruits and flowers. I would celebrate thy return in verse, but "my favorite Heathen bard, and your correspondent must tell his simple story in prose. Let us go forth towards night, when the hurry and bustle of the day are over, let us take this path that leads up to the foot of the mountain.—Now turn your face to the west, and behold what nature hath done for this blessed land of the South. I wish I had Mene's eyes to see, I would give you a quotation worth noting, but see, how beautifully the sun sinks down behind the beautiful green clad mountain, and leaves a stream of golden light behind him, which diffuses itself all over the western horizon, and forms a mighty myriad of golden lights in a sunny sea." Such a soft tint of vermilion and roseate colors were never blended more beautifully in Italian skies, than they are around Jacksonville. 'Tis said then to linger on the brow of the mountain, and beside some gurgling brook, the rippling away so joyously. It is at such times that I delight to leave the busy crowd, and take some friend and steal away, fit time for reflection and meditation.

A feeling of longing for sadness, which is not akin to grief.

As the mist resembles the rain.

And the night shall be filled with music,

As the stars fill the sky.

And the stars fill the sky.

Jacksonville Republican.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.

May, 26, 1859.

We are authorized to announce that J. B. YENUM, as a candidate for Representative of Calhoun County in the next Legislature.

We are authorized to announce that J. H. YOUNG, as a candidate for Sheriff of Calhoun County.

We invite attention to the advertisement of Messrs. R. S. Norton & Son, Roma, Ga., in another column. These truly accommodate and thorough going Merchants have already become so well acquainted with many of our friends and readers as to need no recommendation on our part. They have a very extensive establishment, and large and varied stock, with rooms devoted expressly to particular branches of their business. Call upon them while in Roma, and we are very sure they will make it your interest to trade, whether you wish to purchase little or much.

Law Lectures.—We are gratified to learn that it is the purpose of the Hon. B. F. PORTER, to deliver a series of Law lectures, commencing on the 1st Monday of June, and continuing three months, at the Mineral Springs, Black Creek Falls, near Gadsden. Our young friends in the surrounding country, who are studying law, and others more advanced, will find this most favorable opportunity to unite recreation & business—the acquisition of important knowledge, as well as health and vigor of body and mind. Judge PORTER is known throughout the State as a gentleman of extensive law knowledge, & great facility of imparting information; and none perhaps would be more industrious or take more pleasure in advancing students.

The special attention of our numerous readers in White Plains and vicinity, is invited to the advertisement of Messrs. Williams & Argos. These gentlemen have laid in a fine stock of Goods, purchased in New York and Philadelphia; and in order to increase their trade, are offering them at lower prices than usual.

It needs no argument to prove to rational men that it is not only good policy to encourage home manufactures and industry, but home trade also. In these fast days, when "time is money," a man cannot afford to lose a day's work of man and horse to go to a distance for an article costing perhaps no more than one dollar—then encourage your merchants to keep every thing you need near home. They can better afford to sell $10,000 worth of goods at 25 per cent. than one or two thousand at fifty or one hundred per cent.

Call on Messrs. Williams & Argos, and these enterprising and accommmodating gentlemen will make it your interest to trade with them.

Heavy Rain.—On Wednesday night, the 19th inst., we had the heaviest rain which has fallen here for 20 years, or perhaps since the first settling of the country. It commenced about 8 o'clock and continued very hard for about 3 hours, and less violently for some time longer, and during the time scarcely two seconds between the flashes of lightning, which seemed at times a continued blaze. Fences were removed, from places never before reached by high water, and the small creeks higher for a short time than ever before known.

Commencing some ten miles east of this, and extending to an unknown distance in that direction, as also in the neighborhood of Oxford, there was considerable hail doing some damage to the growing crops. But from the following letter addressed to the Editor of the Selma Reporter, it appears that the hail was much more destructive in the lower part of Tallapoosa County, and south, as far as heard from.

WILSONVILLE, May 15th, 1859.

Messrs. Shelley & Williams.—Gentlemen—Yesterday evening about 5 o'clock, we had a Hail storm in this neighborhood, commencing about 200 yards above the Depot. The Hail stones were from the size of a pigeon to a goose egg. I saw a bucket full about dark the size of hen eggs, which had melted some. It tore off & split the shingles and boards from every house on Mrs. Robertson's and D. B. Oden's places—killed the geese, chickens, &c. The corn and cotton will have to be planted over. Fences and timber were blown down; the like never before seen.—Worse over the river than on this side. The woods look like dead of winter—limbs and leaves stripped off. The hail was from 6 to 8 inches deep. As far as heard from, it has been very destructive to crops.

Yours truly,

R. F. KING.

We mentioned a short time since to the credit of Gadsden merchants, that they had established a free ferry across the Coosa river at that place. Just as to another worthy and enterprising merchant of that County, requires that we should mention a similar fact, which has recently come to our knowledge. Mr. Daniel Hoke of Hoke's Bluff, has for several years kept a ferry boat at that place for the accommodation of the neighborhood, supplying the boat with a new one, whenever carried off by high water, and at his own expense. Such evidences of enterprise and public spirit, on the part of a merchant, is enough to convince all, that he will give good bargains, and deal liberally with his customers.

Mr. Ernest Monch. Professor of Music and Modern Languages, is at present in this place, and will remain a few days. During his stay he will tune and repair Pianos, Melodeons, &c.

He may be found by those wishing his services at W. F. Hotel.

DIFFICULT AND DELICATE SURGICAL OPERATION.—Dr. C. J. Clark, of this place, about two weeks ago, performed the very difficult surgical operation, called in medical works, Tracheotomy, which consists in cutting into the wind-pipe, to remove any foreign substance that may be lodged there, obstructing the breathing. The subject of the operation in this instance, was a little girl, aged only 12 months, child of L. C. Obrian, of Terrapin creek valley; and the difficulty and danger of the operation, consisted in the fact, that the subject was a very fat short-necked child, and the obstruction, a grain of corn, had been lodged their long enough to produce considerable inflammation & swelling, and so difficult was the breathing, that the child must have died in a short time, without relief. So accurately and skillfully was the operation performed, that there was but little bleeding, and the sutured. The operation was entirely successful—the child showing signs of relief immediately upon its performance, and now almost entirely recovered even from any soreness.

This is we believe the second successful operation of this character performed by Dr. Clark; and we have heard of many others, of equally difficult nature.

Persons in this section of country, who may require the assistance of a Surgeon, and not go hundreds of miles to the cities in search of one, for we believe they could not find one more thoroughly qualified, or more skillful and successful in practice than Dr. Clark.

Ladies American Magazine. published monthly by W. A. Townsend & Co. New York, at $1 50 per annum. This large and elegant Magazine for June has been received. Its embellishments consist of a fine steel engraving, "The Finding of Moses," fine colored steel Fashion Plates, and other engravings. Its contents as usual are very interesting.

The Deepest Well in the World.—The Artesian Well at Louisville, Ky., is 2087 feet deep, and discharges 330,000 gallons of water in 24 hours, at an elevation of 170 feet above the surface. Its mechanical force is equal to a steam engine of 20 horse power. The water has medicinal qualities similar to the far-famed Kissingen water of Bavaria, and the Blue Lick Springs of Kentucky, and is said to be very efficacious in the cure of various diseases.

Arthur's Home Magazine.—This interesting and justly popular Magazine for June has already been received by its patrons here. Its high moral tone and chaste literary character, command it to the favor of all. In beauty of embellishments and interest of contents, its June number is equal to any of its predecessors.

Truthful & Eloquent Extract.—The following extract from a speech of a leading statesman is full of truth and eloquence: we commend its perusal at this time, particularly to those Southern whigs, who unite with the northern Black Republicans in complaints of the present disastrous condition of the Post Office department: a condition brought about by the efforts of the opposition to create, by extravagant appropriations, a necessity for a high protective tariff, and not by a democratic Congress, as falsely alleged by them.

Democratic principles are moulded into the very being of this country—The proportions of that country's gigantic stature are formed out of the material of Democratic hands. Where on the statute-book can a law be found of finance or revenue setting the internal policy of our country, and securing it in our countrymen of all parties, that has not been passed on the statute-book by Democratic votes, and stereotyped on the hearts of the people by Democratic argument? The iron hand of Jackson struck the blow that severed the money of the people from a mammoth hand; and the Democracy followed up the blow by dissolving its connection with the lesser monarchies that had grasped the soil. Democratic argument and votes have appropriated the tariff, after protracted struggles, to the revenue standard, and the principle of the opposition to create, by extravagant appropriations, a necessity for a high protective tariff, and not by a democratic Congress, as falsely alleged by them.

present, distractions, the destruction of the Democratic party have failed to rend or rend with little profit, their country's history. They miscalculate the inherent strength of its principles, and fail to appreciate the confidence its past career inspires. Look at it in 1810, discredited and overthrown North & South. See it in 1814, triumphant again. Behold it in 1854, weakened & distracted; yet in 1856 we saw it again victorious. Though the elections of 1858 have been disastrous to its prospects, they are scarcely worse than those of 1854; and who shall say that 1860 will not usher in another victory as brilliant as that of 1859?"

SLAVE AND HIRING LABOR.—Senator Seward last summer circularly declared, that there was an "irrepressible conflict" between free and slave labor in the United States, and that it would not terminate until the complete extinction of slavery. But wherein is this conflict? Slave labor is confined to agricultural and tropical staples, and its production of Cotton, Sugar, Rice, and Tobacco, instead of interfering with white pursuits and investments, furnishes material to their enterprise, and a widened sphere to their achievements, profits and influence. The industry of the one is the corrective of the other, and their united results have given wonderful progress and power to the United States. The conflict is not one of labor or industry, unless it may be so regarded as to the exceptional case of an occupancy of the Territories. And even in that, the Anti-slavery settlers mar the value and interests of their landed investments, by exiling slave population and labor which would rapidly augment them.

The conflict is for political power, rather for party power, sectional power, individual power, spoils power. It is such a conflict irrepressible by truth, justice, the Constitution and the safety of the Union? If it is, then the "moral victory" will be gained. If it is not, then Disunion is inevitable. In any event, Slavery as existent at the South is a rock, which all the Seward's of the world cannot move more nor crush. Nor will the arch demagogue dare the attempt, which may bring him upon it.

RULES FOR SLEEPING IN CHURCH.—A correspondent on the Pacific, in an article on "the proper manner of sleeping in church"—a custom which, he thinks, has been consecrated into a duty by common practice since the days of Paul—gives the following valuable hints upon this interesting subject:

1. It is an improper manner of performing this duty to nod, and for the plateau reason that the worshipper attracts the eyes of all the service. The regulation of the service complained of has given an accommodation at this office, surpassing the capacity of the service allowed for months to come, and from the want of a few seats from Blue Pond to Guntersville direct, much of said mail army can never reach its destination.

These constitute a poor guarantee when in our service, which should be easily obtained.

Mortara had been taken.

New York, May 16.—The Americans had taken the Buffalora Bridge, after a sharp conflict, and with considerable loss. This bridge is remarkable for its magnificence, and crosses the river Ticino at Buffalora, a town of Northern Italy, in Lombardy.

It was also reported that the town of Mortara, in Piedmont, had been taken by the Austrians. It is a walled city, with a sparse population.

The steamship Weser left Liverpool on the 2d May.

The steamship Canada, which left Boston on the 2d of April, arrived at Liverpool on the 2d inst.

The cotton market at the time of the sailing of the Weser, was dull.

Richardson & Spence in their circuit report the breadstuffs market buoyant and a large speculative demand.

The market was quiet, and excited that it was impossible to give quotations. Premiums were advanced, and quotations were nominal, as a speculative feeling continues.

Prices however, and holders were demanding an advance. Sugar was quiet, Salpeter had advanced, but other articles were unchanged in price, although short of supply.

The Borsa left Sonthofen on the 3d of May arrived yesterday at 6 P.M.

The number of lives lost on the previous day, previously reported, was 359.

A Royal Proclamation has been issued offering a bounty of $10 for sea-men with the intention of recruiting 10,000 more men for the British Navy.

Great activity prevailed in the English Dock yards and England is evidently preparing for war.

In all probability there was a sharp action at the Bridge of Buffalora on the 2d of April. It is reported that the Austrians took it at the point of the bayonet.

It was reported that Mortara had been taken and that the Sardinians had retreated before the Austrians near Lake Maggiore.

The telegraph wires to Switzerland had been cut by the Austrians.

The Austrians were concentrating in great numbers at the fortified city of Pavia, in the northern part of Italy.

Sixty thousand French troops were at Genoa.

The King of Sardinia accompanied

Generals Cavour and Nelli, on the line of operations on the river Dora.

The Austrians had taken possession of the Sardinian Lake Maggiore.

Austria announces her desire to negotiate for a loan of £20,000,000.
